“ Today I realize that my mother has been with my LORD for 25 days I know she is in a better place but she was a good mother to me. Mother's do the best they can and sacrifice much for their children and I know mine did for me. Leona May Sykes was a very loving person to family and friends, could be funny, had a temper when she felt she needed to, could give you a look that meant she meant business. Mama was my confident, my heart, and sometimes a friend to go somewhere with.,she will always be a reminder of having patience , putting my trust in myself and GOD. Love you Mama your daughter Jada.

A rare jewel. Fashion diva who could dress to the tee. I know God spared my and baby daughter life on 3-6-2020 recent apartment fire. I know it was God and my mother's spirit. She was a praying mother. God was not ready for us and he was using us to tell our testimony that he brought us out alright and to run this race to see his face by his grace & mercy...also praise him...having a personal relationship with him..reading and studying the word. She loved music especially gospel and those in the hymnal. She like to dance and gave advise to those who came across her path.

Giving us patience to endure any crisis....save the lost and things she taught or said to us girls to past down to our children...and their children's.

Being able to love one another and treat others the way we wanted to be treated. Having respect for elders.

I will always love you. We had a special bond..I was your miracle baby and you remain in my heart ❤️ and thru the Holy Spirit...I know we were kept for a purpose and plan to finish an assignment...to be closer to family and/or closer to God...to get things right before time winds down to get to see you again/God, those who pass on before you and get future generations ready time is drawing near and those on our hearts including family members and friends, relatives and our pastor/church family.

Thank you for being a dear loving mama who raised me right, I which taught me to raised my children right with Christian values, they will one day do the same or God will put children/ godchilren, or some type of children in the path to inspire and teach them the same. The prayers you prayed, the dreams/ visions you spoke of...and memories you shared...your legacy lives on.

“ When I saw the obituary of Leona, I thought, I know her, I know her face. I worked at Fabri-Kal in the late 70's. I remember Leona very well. That's my mother's name too. She was a bright light, with a generous personality, a kind soul, who was a great worker and friend. This picture defines her well..that sweet smile says it all. I want to send you all, my condolences. I know she'll be greatly missed..but she will never be forgotten. May she rest in peace to watch over you all....

“ She was an amazing woman. Stronger than any woman I know. We shared many mornings drinking coffee and talking about life. She had a baby shower for me for my second son and the first time she babysat for me, she put the disposable diaper on backwards. Brought many smiles to both of us. Her grandson Damian was my oldest son's best friend when they were very young. She will always have a special place in my heart. Love to her husband, daughters, and grandkids. I wish you peace of mind and warm memories.

“ So happy we had some good time together on July 2, 2016 my Aunt was a spirited and loving women of God. She always greeted me with "You had better get over here to see me before I break your plate" you see she was a phenomenal cook but the reference to the plate was about love and not food. That day I greeted her with "you know I had to get over here before you broke my plate" she replied "I put it in a safe place Baby" while patting her heart ❤️ At the same time. She had memory loss over these last couple of years but this day she remember me by name and how I was related to her with little reminding ~ I am so blessed to have this women in my life ~ thank you for sharing her with me. My Daddy's and Uncle Virgil's baby sister and last living sibling, now they are fusing in heaven together overwhelmed with joy to be together again ~ 🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏 I can see her now in heaven squeezing her nephew Craig aka "Duke" as she loved him dearly. love your Neice Sheena
