

Marsavious "Savie" Frazier

October 19, 1998 - September 5, 2016

Marsavious Frazier, affectionately known as "Savie", passed away unexpectedly September 5, 2016. He was born in Kalamazoo, October 19, 1998, the son of Jonathan Frazier and Tarra Mayes. He was going to begin his senior year in the Kalamazoo Public Schools. He accepted Christ at a young age as his personal Savior, and was a member of Galilee Baptist Church.

Savie was a vibrant, fun-loving person and a generous person beyond compare with a zest for life that was contagious to all who were near. He had a competitive spirit which gave him the drive to excel in many endeavors. His passion for team sports was evident, and he was a huge fan of University of Michigan. His smile was like a warm hug that embraced the room. It did not matter whether he was in Kalamazoo or out of state, he made friends early and touched the hearts of many. He was also known to be very loyal and compassionate to his friends. They could count on him to stand by them or have a listening ear whenever they needed someone to talk to.

He was preceded in death by his great grandmother, Hellon Smith, three great aunts, Ruby Stuckey, Jerlene Redmond and Mary Faye Smith. .

Besides his parents, those left to cherish his memory include: his two brothers, Dra (Kiyah) Frazier and Perry Bowden, both of Kentucky; his sisters, Sharell (Joe) McPherson of Kalamazoo, Oshinay Mayes and AlLeena Hollin; paternal grandparents, Betty Frazier and John Frazier; maternal grandparents, Johnnie and Patricia Davis and Charlean Jackson. Numerous aunts and uncles, including a special aunt, Glenda (Netra) Smith, Ayanna (Dianna) Frazier, Ashley Davis, Mike (Querrida) Anderson, David Anderson, Marcus Odell Reese Sr. Significant individuals throughout his life were Alisa (Mike) Monroe and the McNeal family. He also had a host of other relatives and friends.

Life will never be the same without Savie here, but he leaves behind a priceless collection of memories that his loved ones will cherish forever.

Words can't describe how I feel Savie, all I can say is I love YOU.... I just wish God would have left you with us just a little longer. I can see your smile and feel your hugs you were my taz, my light bright, my baby bro, my heart. I don't wish this pain on anyone. They say God only takes the best and I truly believe that. Smh I love you Savie and whoever is reading this hold on to the ones you love because they can be gone at any time 😭
