

Mrs. Dorothy M. Coleman

April 3, 1945 - March 20, 2010

Mrs. Dorothy M. Coleman went home to be with the Lord, Saturday, March 20, 2010 at Borgess Medical Center. She was born April 3, 1945 the daughter of Onetress and Leonard Turner in Camden, Arkansas. Dorothy's family moved to Kalamazoo, MI where she graduated from Central High School (Old Central). She united in marriage to James Larthridge. She later united in marriage to Lafayette Coleman, who preceded her in death. Dorothy was a faithful member of The Galilee Baptist Church. She was employed at a grocery store, and later worked at Lincoln Elementary School as an Art Teacher. She later became employed with the City of Kalamazoo, until her retirement. Dorothy enjoyed spending time with her family. She loved listening to "Old School" music, sewing and quilting. She was a very creative person and also enjoyed drawing and painting. She is preceded in death by daughter, Angela Larthridge; and brother Leonard Turner. Dorothy will truly be missed by her sons: Russell and Michael Larthridge, and daughter, Angeline Moore all of Kalamazoo, MI; brothers, Robert Turner of California, Spencer (Mae Bell) Turner of Kalamazoo, Greg Turner of Texas and Leon Robinson of Kalamazoo; sisters: Joyce Russell, Onetress (Theodore) Thompson and Jacqueline Robinson all of Kalamazoo; grandchildren: Michael Larthridge Jr.; Jerome Larthridge, Russell Williams, Lakia Larthridge, Teriahna Duckett and Salinah Duckett; Uncle Herman Stewart; along with a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.
