“ Joe,

I'm so sorry for your loss. I can't imagine what you're going through right now. I know you're right - your mom was surely proud of the man you've become. I hope you can find comfort in the memories of the times you shared and the things your mom taught you. I'm just so sorry.##imported-begin##Katie Chase##imported-end##

“ I never had the energy and will to have the "I'll Miss You" talk. I never took the time to say don't worry about me. Or tell you I will always be there for my wife and kids. I never asked you for your best words on what losing a parent felt like. I never took the time to accept that this was happening until I had to. I wanted, in the best way, everytime you saw my family and me that normal worry free visit-where kids laughed and everyone wore a smile. Thats how I wanted our last year together to be about and those images to remember you by. . .

You once told me that the first thing you forget about someone was the sound of their voice. I never wanted to believe that. I'll never believe that because the sound of your voice, your reassurance, your constant reminding of how great your number one son was- could not ever leave my memory.

As I grew up, I became self dependant, and needed you there for me less and less. I became a man. I like to think you did alright with me. Sure, I've got a lot on my plate, but someone special told me I was extraordinary.

This is hard. This is my "I'll Miss You" talk. This is me imagining you talking to me about loss. Because its here, its now, and I need my mom. So I'll do my best, to always talk and imagine what you'd say to me because as self dependant as I am, you were my foundation and support-My optimism and faith.

Thats why I never had those talks Mom. Because the only thing that mattered to me was that you heard me say "I love you." All the rest you already knew...

You were my Mom, my Ma, my Momma, and I like to think you were pretty damn special too.

“ I knew you many years ago while you were married to my cousin Tim. Norma was one of the sweetest women I have ever known. I always looked up to her for her beauty and poise. “ I am so blessed to have shared three years of happiness with Norma. She always put others before herself, was truly an angel sent from above. I still think about the good times we had with family and friends going to the park with the dogs. just the simple stuff that we all take for granted, Norma loved to do, like cooking, riding in the car, going to the park, watching the sunset. May god bless her, and may her wings take her to all those places we talked about visiting someday.
See you soon Norma,

“ I am so going to miss you Norma. I hope you know how fun you made my teenage years for me. I was always hanging out at yours & Timmy's house with you and the kids, everyday. We used to have so much fun; from jumping off the high dive in that olympic size swimming pool in Hideaway Hills in Ohio (what were we thinking?!?!?) to sneakin up to the house on the hill on a regular basis to go swimming (shhh, don't tell). But no matter what we did, even if we were just watchin our Young & The Restless & The Bold & The Beautiful, we always had a good time. And yes, we did especially liked to watch Ridge! You and I were always together, except for the day when I got married, you were sad, because you couldn't make it because you were having Tabby (but we were both ecstatic that you had her that day!!). And then when I had Sam and you saw her for the first time, you had so much love in your eyes and you were so proud of me.

As we got older we were still so close, but as life sometimes happens, we didn't get to see eachother as much as we used to or would've liked to. But we still tried to get together as much as we could. I just want you know that I love you and you will always be my "seester", and you will always be Aunt Norma to my kids. I love you girl and will miss you more than words can express.

I am so glad that we got to spend some time with you. Whenever I think of you, I always have a smile. And now that I live in Ohio and I have all these memories rushing back, I can say, I had Norma in my life and my life with her was a blast!!! Thank you so much Norma, you gave me so much. And I will honor that promised I made to you all those years ago. Nw you are free Norma, and you aren't in anymore pain, now you can fly. I love you seester!!!##imported-begin##Misty Blu##imported-end##
