NOTE: Visitation & Memorial Service Times and Location are Listed Below

Roy Phaon Diggs, Jr. was born April 12, 1951 in Austin, Texas to the union of Roy Phaon and Ella Mae Diggs.

Affectionately referred to as “Snookie” by family and friends, Roy accepted Christ into his life at an early age and joined Greater Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Church in Austin.

Roy attended L. C. Anderson High School in Austin and was selected as an inaugural member of Huston-Tillotson College’s first Upward Bound Program for academically promising students.

After graduating in 1969, Roy was accepted into the HBCU college, and studied Business Administration. Roy worked at various jobs including a position with the Texas State Comptroller’s Office and served in the Army Reserves at Austin’s Camp Mabry.

In 1978 he moved to Detroit to live with his uncle, NFL legend, Dick “Night Train” Lane who helped instill in him a lifelong strong work ethic.

After obtaining a position with City National Bank as a Computer Operator, Roy met and married Orell “Nina” Graham in 1978 and from this union was born a daughter, Autumn Diggs.

The bank went through years of reorganization which required Roy to relocate to Saginaw, MI. In 1991, Roy moved his family to Kalamazoo to accept a position as Computer Operations Shift Supervisor at First of America Bank. In 1995 they purchased a home and joined Mt. Zion Missionary Baptist Church in the area and became active members of the congregation.

Roy loved making people laugh and was popular with friends and family for his comedic sense of humor and generous spirit. He was also admired as a loving husband and devoted family man who handled the responsibilities of fatherhood and provided generously to many without wanting recognition. He enjoyed spending time with close friends, watching sports and listening to various genres of music.

An avid movie fan, Roy would watch movies for hours, enjoying his wife's excellent home cooking. For their 40th wedding anniversary in April of 2019, he gifted his wife Nina with a Caribbean cruise. He retired the following month in May from Fifth Third Bank as a System Support Specialist.

On February 20, 2020, after two retirements and fighting the good fight of a long term illness, Roy shed the earthly bonds of this world, answering the master's call to his well-deserved rest and reward.

Roy Diggs was a true believer in Christ's redemption, until his last days he spoke of the importance of faith.

Roy was preceded in death by his parents, Roy Phaon and Ella Mae Diggs, uncle Richard Lane, maternal grandmother Ora Mae Duvall and grandparents, John and Penina Diggs.

To celebrate his life's legacy and cherish his memories, Roy leaves behind his loving wife, Orell, their daughter Autumn, a grandson, Alexander Logan Jones, brother Maurice L. Diggs, two sisters, Muriel L. Easley (Willie) and Rosalind A. Diggs, two nieces Tara Easley and Vanice Hayes (Patrick) and a host of relatives, friends and former co-workers.
