“ PaPa You have been in my life since I was 8 years old you have been there for your grand kids through thick & Thin I've been having flash backs of the whole 45 years. You have been there through my high school football games & You let me drive the Cheyenne truck to the game & you laughed cause you didn't know how I got so many people in your truck, You were there for my graduation and you and Mamma bought me a Pontiac J60000 for Easter when I was 16 years old cause you were tired of me asking to use the truck, When I graduated from high school you helped me go to Chicago for a weekend trip, When I got Married & Divorced you were there for Me, when my 3 kids were born the first place I came when leaving the hospital was on Rollridge You & Mamma said the first place they should come was home so that is where we always spent our first night then my grand kids continued the tradition. Everyone you came across you gave them a nickname Jr was Flip, Marcus was Dog Man or Doggie, and Angelica was Aunt Maggie where you got our nicknames from Ill never know we all just embraced them with Love I'm so messed up first Mamma now you!!! I'll never hear you say "That's My Daughter" You always said it so proud no matter how crazy I acted you talked about and loved me and my kids until the end. No matter what I could always call on you when I needed too and you were always there. I'll never hear you sing happy birthday to me in you best/worst voice and then give me that crazy laugh again. I never imagined a life without you and Mamma all I can think about is neither of you are sick and in pain anymore and your together like you wanted. You spoiled me and my 3 kids until the end Thank you for Loving us, being our support system and Our PaPa.

Love you
Your Daughter
