“ It’s been 7 years since my father has passed. I never really let it effect my life on the outside until recently. I find myself depressed because my kids want to meet their grand father only to say, he’s in a better place. I miss him dearly. I cherish the memories we made so much. Jamming in the dining room, going to the bowling alley, trips to the beach, he was an amazing dad. The humility he instilled in my brother and I have made us who we are today. I miss him; Dad I miss you. It’s hitting me heavy and though, I know you’re in a better place, wish you were here. I love everyone who has kept this alive in honor of Tim. Thank you and I love you all. Dad, I love you the most. You did good. Until we meet again.

“ It was a special day that Tim was born. After three older sisters, his older brother, Rick, was thrilled to finally have a brother and jumped in the air with joy. Tim was our baby and his three sisters would put him in a canvas doll stroller until he was so heavy, he fell through the bottom. Tim always wanted to be part of the older clan and showed such loyalty to all his siblings' pranks, especially as teenagers trying to cover up various antics from my parents. All of our friends loved Tim and he heard quite an earful from three older sisters and their girlfriends. He was very good to my mom and provided a lot of companionship to her after we had all left for college. Once he went to Western-he met Ahnigha, found a job at Safety Services and basically settled there. His two wonderful sons, Casey and Cameron, both display the kind and loving heart that their father had. Tim was a survivor in many ways. He had a serious brain injury in 1999 and surprised everyone including the doctors with his recovery. Although he had rough patches since then, he added much to the lives of the people who loved him. He was always humble and never asked for much. He cherished all of his family unconditionally. Although he is gone way too soon, our hearts are warmed by the memories of a truly wonderful person-Tim Burke. You will not be forgotten. Mary Jo Burke Parres(sister)

“ I have so many wonderful memories of my Uncle Tim. He was loved by people everywhere he went. My earliest memories are of Tim playing the guitar for our family at the cottage. I remember sitting at his feet and thinking how cool my uncle was. More recently I like to think about all the time that Tim spent around our house, just hanging out with Casey and Cam or taking them to Gameworks. No matter what we were doing Tim always livened up the room. Tim was also really good with animals. I remember how much he loved our dog, Annie. She loved him, too. When he would spend time at our house Tim loved to walk Annie around the neighborhood and sit out back with her on the deck.
Uncle Tim, I love you so much and will miss you dearly.
